Friday, Oct. 1, on your radio—that's the night Cornell PTA will have its first general meeting of the 1971-72 term. Everyone in town, from the youngest kid to our Senior Citizens, is invited to attend this special program which will feature Mary Kay's "popular pouches" and "entertainment"—a group of talented and professional dancers.

The program will start at 7:30 p.m. in Cornell School Auditorium and will have as special guests parents of new students and the parents of the school students. Albany Mayor Hubert Call and School Superintendent Kenneth Forry will be on hand to welcome everyone, according to program chairman Mrs. Anita Hoff.

Albany youngsters who are students at Presentation High School in Berkeley, will be participating in the school's annual "Carnegie Drive," from Sept. 24 through Oct. 11.

Parents from the drive will be asked to badly needed recreation facilities at the school. Those wishing to order some good choices should call 845-6724.

Albany councilman, Joe Carle, was the first volunteer for the March of Dimes Birth Defects Walkathon.

According to Walkathon chairman, Police Chief Ralph Jensen, participants must first solicit gifts from sponsors, who will be paid to pay so much for each walked.

Local groups and clubs are planning to send their champions, Joe Cruz, track coach, has promised that the Albany High School cross-country team will be represented.

Words of wisdom from the Albany Rota-News: An executive is who never puts off until tomorrow, what he can get some else to do today!

The Albany Chamber of Commerce is planning a city-wide October promotion to celebrate the completion of work on Solano Avenue. The event will be held throughout Oct. 15, with cash merchandise totaling over $100 to be given out at draw.

School Board 'Shook Up'
By Unsafe School Report

Albany's two elementary schools, last inspected under the Field Act in 1933, have been declared unsafe from earthquake hazards and beyond economically feasible repair, according to a report submitted to the Board of Education by the State Office of Architecture and Construction.

The report notes conditions at Marin School as follows: "The auditorium-classroom building at the intersection of Santa Fe and Marin Aves, is unsafe for school use."

"Rehabilitation of the auditorium-classroom wing on the southwest side and the kindergarten does not appear economically feasible. Rehabilitation of the three classrooms on the east wing appears to be marginally feasible at best."

Cornell School did not come off much better in the report, which stated: "Neither wing of this building complies with the present structural safety standards for public school buildings."

"The auditorium-classroom building is unsafe for school use. Rehabilitation does not appear economically feasible."

In a letter to Albany School Superintendent Kenneth Forry, George A. Kerekas, senior structural engineer with the inspecting office, explained why the buildings were OK'd in 1933 and are judged "unsafe" now.

"The conclusions of this report differ from those under the report dated May 22, 1933," Kerekas noted, "due to the increased knowledge now available in the field of earthquake engineering."

Visibly upset by the report, in which one engineer stated the condition of Marin School was the worst he had ever seen in a building still being occupied, the Board of Education set a special meeting for last night, too late for a report in this week's edition of the Albany Times.

Superintendent Forry, however, had indicated that the Board would seek the advice of architects and engineers as to whether the buildings can be rehabilitated.

The school administrator also noted that when an understanding of the total cost involved was reached it would have to be submitted to the voters of the community for their decision.

Police Auction

Albany Police Chief Ralph Jensen has announced an auction of unclaimed bicycles and other items, to be held at the north end of the Albany Police Building, Saturday, Oct. 2, at 10 a.m.

Included in the list of items to be auctioned are: men's and women's clothing, umbrellas, canes, transistor radios and cassettes, binoculars, miscellaneous keys, men's and women's reading and sun glasses, jewelry, brief cases and purses.

A majority of the unclaimed articles were found at Golden Gate Fields during the recent meet.

Albany High PTA

The first general meeting of the Albany High School PTA will be held Thursday, Sept. 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Miss Schwartz is a registered nurse, formerly head of Teen Services and presently a volunteer worker for Planned Parenthood World Population.

Mrs. James McWilliams, AHS PTA president, will preside over a short business meeting.

Refreshments will be served by 12th grade mothers under the chairmanship of Mrs. Jewel Okawachi.

Vacation Contest
Scheme Cited by DA

The Contra Costa County District Attorney's office has obtained a temporary restraining order and has filed a $75,000 civil suit against Vacations Ltd., a vacation contest promotion operation with offices in Walnut Creek, but operating in other Bay Area cities, including Albany. The DA's office has cited them for using misleading advertising to get money from "contest" entrants.

The temporary restraining order was issued by Superior Court Judge Robert Cooney, former El Cerrito city attorney, naming James P. Lynch and Jerald Swart, operators of the business, after numerous complaints from Bay Area residents who claimed they had been misled by the advertising.

The firm had advertised $9.95 as the total cost for a three-day, two-night vacation at a choice of Lake Tahoe, Las Vegas or Reno resorts. But, according to Curt Hoffman, Contra Costa County deputy district attorney, contest winners wound up paying an additional $7 per night for hotel accommodations, and many were also submitted to high-pressure sales pitches to buy land.

The deputy DA further commented that although the business advertised only three winning contestants per week, actually "everyone who entered won." In some cases, contest winners maintained, they were told the $9.95 fee would be refunded after hotel accommodations were secured, but were later informed that the fees were not refundable.

Julius H. Cohen, attorney for Vacations Ltd., said the business will obey the temporary restraining order. However, he noted, "The DA will have more complaints—because people who hold unused certificates for vacations will be left with nothing."

A preliminary hearing has been set for 9 a.m., Sept. 24 in the Contra Costa County Superior Court.

Parish Bazaar

Walter Corvello, Albany resident and general chairman for the St. Ambrose Parish Bazaar has promised "something for everyone" when the festivities begin at 10 a.m., Saturday, Sept. 25, in St. Ambrose Parish Hall, Gilman and Stannage in Berkeley.

Among the many attractions will be Game Booths for the young (and those who feel young); a White Elephant Booth with "anything and everything"; a Craft Booth featuring handmade ceramics, Christmas decorations, burlap angels, etc.

Other handmade articles available for sale will include sweaters, ponchos, doll clothes, aprons, embroidered goods, and many more.

An always popular Cake Booth will offer a wide array of homemade baked goods.

Tickets for door prizes, which will include a hand-crocheted Afghan, a hand-crafted Madonna statue and a Zenith transistor radio, will be available in the Hall on the day of the Bazaar.

An added attraction will be a painting exhibit presented by Frank Ponder and his students.

Refreshments, including hot dogs and soft drinks, will be available throughout the day.

Editorial . . .

Over the coming weekend thousands of teenagers will be doing their "thing" . . . marching!

Adults have become increasingly aware of the voice of youth in the streets . . . too often raised in protest against the established order of our society, or lamenting the conditions of our world . . . without trying to do something constructive to help change them.

It is, therefore, refreshing to note that the teenagers who will be marching in Albany, and elsewhere, will be in support of something . . . trying to help build a better world by supporting St. Jude Children's Research Hospital, a research institution engaged in a search for cures for leukemia and related childhood diseases.

Over eighty percent of the funds needed to continually support St. Jude Hospital are raised by teenagers—marching from door-to-door across the nation.

Many young people involved in the Teenagers' March will be performing their first public service. The youngsters who knock on your door may approach hesitantly and deliver their message very awkwardly. We hope that you will receive the teenage marcher graciously and respond generously.

Marchers are still needed in some areas in Albany, and we are sure, judging from the help local youngsters have given to other worthy causes in the past, that they will volunteer to help close the gap in the ranks of the marchers.

Those wishing to help are asked to contact Kathy Trythall, at 526-1344.

Park Maintenance, Schools and Resolutions Head Council Meet

The Albany City Council transacted a quantity of routine business during their hour and a half long Monday night meeting, resulting in the approval of a number of resolutions to accept the resignation of Police Officer George Phillips, commend and congratulate Sgt. Emil Zugnoni on his retirement from the Police Dept., approve replacements for both policemen, and approve the appointment of Georgia Castell as Albany Pre-School director, and Mrs. Calista Hintz as her assistant. Councilman Joe Carlevaro's appointment of Mrs. Althea Ippolito to the Albany Beautification Committee was also approved.

Other routine action included the setting of a hearing for a variance at 636 Adams St. for Oct. 12, and variance hearings for 803 Buchanan and 1008 Cornell set for Oct. 18, as well as the proclaiming of October as PTA Month, at the request of Mrs. George Jaekle, president of the Albany PTA Council.

The Council also heard an appeal from the Albany Athletic Booster Club, represented by Jim Scoggins, concerning conditions at the Memorial Park ball field, and requesting that either the School Board and/or the City assume responsibility for the maintenance.

The Club representative noted that although the schools have control of the field for nine months of the year and the City the other three, neither one has taken a real responsibility for the care of it.

Noting that this field receives more play than any other area in the City, and should have constant maintenance, Scoggins said Booster Club members themselves, earlier this year had taken care of some of the maintenance, but nothing has been done since except an occasional watering. "The safety of the children using the area is our main concern," he noted.

In reply, Councilman Lew Howell noted that there never had been any written agreement between the schools and the City on the exact responsibility for the park, but that the two had been trying to get together for a meeting to define the responsibility, as this has long been a problem.

TESTIMONIAL DINNER

You are cordially invited to attend the Testimonial Dinner in honor of Mrs. Nell Curran, Saturday, Sept. 25, at Goodman's, 10 Jack London Square, Oakland.

Contact Albany Park and Recreation Department or Marilyn Jackson, 526-2463, for further information.

Beautification
Committee Action

The Albany Beautification and Improvement Committee has suggested to the City Council that work on Solano Avenue should continue as planned, and the street used following its completion, before any changes are considered.

A suitable "sign moratorium" for Solano Avenue businesses was also discussed at the Committee's most recent meeting. Members proved to be unanimously in favor of a ruling which would allow for inexpensive temporary signs to be installed, to be replaced at a later date by larger permanent ones, which would enhance the potential "new look" hoped for along Solano Avenue.

In a further discussion of Solano Avenue, the Committee approved a motion to send a letter to John Pleich, owner of Flowerland, commending him for the beautiful flower and shrubbery display he plants and maintains in front of his business establishment, which enhances his frontage on Solano Avenue and makes pleasant viewing for those passing by.

Arivederci Roma

Annette Stallone gave a colorful and interesting report to her fellow members of the Soroptimist Club of Albany at last week's meeting, enlightening them on her experience as a delegate to the Soroptimist International Conference recently held in Rome, Italy.

One of her most remembered experiences was a private audience at the Vatican with the Pope, who appeared to her as very small and frail, but who possessed a surprising knowledge of the Soroptimists and their work.

A special performance by the last remaining mounted regiment in the Italian Army, was another of her thrilling experiences. One hundred men on horseback paraded and drilled to music, climaxed by an exciting battle charge.

Miss Stallone was also impressed by the efforts of the people of Italy to aid the children left without homes and families as the result of the devastating earthquake which took place there last year. Many, many Italian families are now adopting the "earthquake orphans" . . . three of her own cousins have adopted children, ranging in ages from a few months to 13 years of age.

She was also surprised at the number of non-Catholics who attended Catholic religious services while in Rome, and appalled at the height of the stone staircases on many of the very old churches, especially notable at St. Maria in Ara-Coeli in the Piazza del Campidoglio.

Many, many old and historic palaces and castles, with old-world formal gardens, were thrown open for visiting Soroptimists from all over the world, who were royally wined and dined, at places the average tourist never sees.

Taxpayer
Still Pays

The State Supreme Court's decision on the constitutionality of California's public school financing system does not relieve any taxpayer of his obligation for paying his 1971-72 property taxes on time, in the view of the State Board of Equalization.

This opinion was expressed by Board Member John W. Lynch, in response to recent questioning by taxpayers as to whether the recent State Supreme Court decision, which ruled that the public school financing system of California is unconstitutional, excuses taxpayers from paying any part of their 1971-72 property taxes.

The first installment of 1971-72 property taxes will become delinquent Dec. 10, 1971.

Mr. Lynch pointed out that the Supreme Court decision of Aug. 30 did not involve the granting of an injunction against the collection of taxes, or any final order respecting any taxpayer's obligation to pay his property taxes. The Supreme Court's action was to send the case back to the Superior Court of Los Angeles County for trial.

The lawsuit was brought by a group of Los Angeles County public school children and their parents, as a class action against county and state officials, seeking a judicial declaration that California's school financing system is unconstitutional.

Join The Parade

Albany groups and organizations are being encouraged to enter a float in the up-coming Veterans' Day Parade, to be held in Albany, Monday, Oct. 25.

Jerry Williams of Albany, general chairman for the event, has announced the deadline for entering as Friday, Oct. 1, and hopes for good representation from the City of Albany.

Entry blanks and further information may be obtained by calling Williams at 525-5749.

An Open Letter to the Citizens of Albany:

Dear Neighbors:

Each autumn for many years, Albany Lions have canvassed all the homes in the city, asking you to buy light bulbs from us. All the proceeds from these sales have been used to pay for our Club's many service projects.

Preferences and customs change, and we feel that such a house-to-house sale is no longer the way to raise money for our projects. However, we sincerely thank all of you who have so willingly patronized our "Lite-A-Thon," and we hope for your continued support of the fund-raising efforts of the Albany Lions Club.

For those of you who would still like to buy light bulbs to help us, we have arranged a year-round sale. There will be a permanent display of Lions light bulbs at the Chelemados Market, 1251 Solano Ave. at Masonic, and the profit from all bulbs sold in this store will go directly to the Lions Club of Albany.

If you do not see what you need—ask for it. We can order almost any kind of electric bulb you may need. Also the Lions will deliver, within the City of Albany. Just call 525-9965.

Again, we thank you for your previous generous help and hope for your continued patronage.

Cordially yours,
Lions Club of Albany
Don Chelemados,
President

Among Albanyites who enjoyed the trip to the Islands were Ani- Control Officer, John Sawers, the Works Dept.'s Johnnie Ham and husband Roland, old Van Coops of the Albany th Dept., and the Bert Haes family—Bert, who was formerly with the Albany Post, is now at the main office Berkeley, and daughter Mauris employed at the Ellis-Olson tuary.

What is off to the very con- grate young man working on repaving of Solano Avenue

... who patiently got down off his rig, stopped the traffic, and escorted a very confused young blind woman across a very congested street.

Poor Bertha Weite Jones—Bert, former owner of Ber-Wels Dress Shop on Solano Avenue, was planning on a trip to Germany with husband Ted. But she made a trip to Alta Bates Hospital instead, where she is currently recuperating from surgery. She would appreciate hearing from her friends.

Albany Lions Board of Directors are playing "musical chairs" it would seem... first vice-president Roosevelt Young resigned his post, and on advice of the Nominating Committee second vice-president Del Wisenor moved up to fill the unexpired first vice's term, John McDonald moved in to Del's seat and Tiny Kamp moved into John's position.

Have you heard... that the Hallmark Company, producers of a very popular line of greeting cards, has announced it will use recycled paper in its cards—although this will represent only about 1% of the paper used in the U.S.—it's a start!

The Oakland Symphony Youth Orchestra Family "Pops" Concert, set for Sunday, Oct. 17, at 2:30 p.m., at Chabot College Theater in Hayward, sounds like a very good way to spend a Sunday afternoon.

And it's for a very good cause, too... The Family Service Agency, which attempts to help families and troubled individuals to keep life stable enough for job-holders to stay on the job, for young people to get an adequate education and to have an even break in their start in life. Stressing the "quality of family life" the Agency attempts to help each family member develop his potential—whether as a student, a wage earner, a parent and a citizen.

Manned by a professional staff, fees are determined according to the ability to pay.

Albany High School PTA members are now serving coffee and other goodies to night school students on Monday and Thursday evenings. All proceeds are earmarked for the PTA budget, according to Mrs. John Sterlino, vice-president and budget and finance chairman, who is in charge of the coffee hours.

Fred Collins, son of Mrs. Harriett Collins of Albany, and former Albany High grad, received his Masters Degree in Business Administration this spring, and is now Director of the Institute of Governmental Studies at the Census Service Facility at UC Berkeley.

Fred and his wife just returned from their first conference in New Orleans... where he said—it was raining!

Lucky Toni Stallone not only got to go to Rome, Italy, as a delegate to the Soroptimist Club, but won a 5-day trip to Acapulco, Mexico—she drew her own winning ticket, how about that! Took along a friend and one of her nieces and helped to dedicate a Holiday Hotel.

Albany High School is again recruiting students to help in elementary school classrooms.

There is an especial need for help at MacGregor, according to Loette Fletcher, committee coordinator.

Mrs. Annette Allen is the teacher in charge of the program and Dorothy Irvin, MacGregor-Vista principal is handling student training.

All three women have emphasized that interested students will be screened and trained before they are placed in a classroom.

For both adults and student volunteers, the rewards of helping in a library or classroom are great... and so is the responsibility.

Beginners' folk dancing class will meet Monday, Sept. 27, at 8 p.m., in the Cornell School Auditorium. Class instruction will include Balkan dances, International couple dances and the fundamentals of American squares. The quarter registration fee is $5 for adults and $2.50 for teens. For further information please call the P&R office, 526-6116 or Joan McCoy, 525-3852.

Changes Noted

By AB Hospital

Alta Bates Hospital has announced several changes for coming events.

First, the formal Red and White Ball has been cancelled in favor of an informal Hawaiian Holiday, to be held Saturday, Oct. 2 at Goodman's on Jack London Square in Oakland.

The second change involves the traditional President's Tea of the Alta Bates Volunteer Association, which will be replaced by a President's Membership Luncheon, to be held today, Sept. 22, at the Hiller Highlands Country Club in Oakland.

The luncheon will not only be the occasion to interest and recruit new members for the Association, but will also give those attending a preview of a possible new-fashion in volunteer uniforms, involving both change of design and possible change of color.

The buffet luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m., and hospital personnel from areas in which the volunteers work will be luncheon guests, along with friends of volunteers who might be interested in joining the Alta Bates Volunteer Association.
